

Christopher Everett Walton

August 8, 1985 - June 19, 2024

Christopher Everett Walton, 38, Of Nitro, WV passed away on Wednesday, June 19, 2024, at CAMC General Division, Charleston.

Surviving is his mother; Teresa Lynn Easter; father and stepmother, Jess “Bubba” and Sylvia Walton; sister, Jessica Walton; niece, Phoenix; nephew, Zane and aunt, Beverly Watts.

There will be no service at this time.

You may visit Chris’s tribute page at BartlettNichols.com to share memories or condolences with the family.

Bartlett-Nichols Funeral Home, family owned and located at 409 Sixth Avenue, St. Albans is honored to serve the Walton family.

Tribute Wall

MS

“ Chris it's over a year now and it feels like yesterday. I can't let go of you. I keep waiting on u knowing that it will never be we had some much love and fun together and plans to do things. I don't know how to let go u was everything to me. My heart is still broken u meant such much to me. I will always love you my teddy bear ❤️.

Marie Stamper - February 14 at 12:34 PM

MS

“ When I meet Chris he change my life. I had just went through a divorce and I had no idea how I was going to get through life especially having a bad disease of Crohns. Some one at the Nitro Moose told him I was dieing. And I told him no I am not dieing. I remember him flirting with me for 3 days and he had the most prettiest eyes I ever seen. From there on we kept talking and I kept falling in love with him. He was so sweet and loving to me. I told him what was going on with me and he told me it will be ok. We went through so many trials but no matter what he done I was never lettering him go. I love him with all my heart. Everybody tried to break us apart and if I had to fight them I would he was worth it. So he final realized that I loved him and he fell in live with me. When I heard the news he passed my heart is broke. He was my everything. I don't care who says what family and friends my home was his home. He will forever be in my heart ❤️. Marie loves Chris 4 ever

Marie Stamper - June 28, 2024 at 10:07 PM

LE

“ I was honored to be a nurse to Chris during a difficult time in his life. It was a wonderful experience to watch his transformation. He was always so polite and kind to staff and peers. There was so many good memories of Chris that I can't just pick one. He has made an impact on a lot of people, myself included. It's so sad that he won't be able to anymore. I'm just grateful that I had the privilege to meet him and know him. I will be praying for comfort for his family and friends. 🙏

Lynn Edwards - June 27, 2024 at 09:42 PM

WR

“ So awful to hear about this. I'm not sure what happened. But I'll share this story. Because it's how I'll always think of Chris.

When I was a kid my family moved around a lot for various reasons. It was hard always being the new kid, not knowing anyone, never staying around anywhere long enough to have friends. And I was small for my age. I was used to getting picked on at new schools.

But when I started school in Nitro, this kid named Chris, who I didn't know, stood up for me, let me sit with him on the bus, and talked to me like we were friends, laughed with me and looked out for me.

He acted tough, but he had a big, kind heart. And I hope that whatever happened, wherever he is now, he has comfort, and peace, and knows that he had a positive effect on people around him.

He set an example for me that I've tried to live up to ever since. To look out for people, even people you don't know. And I think the world is a little worse without him.

-Wyatt

Wyatt Rowe - June 27, 2024 at 06:24 PM

That was how Chris was. A loving person.

Marie Stamper - June 28, 2024 at 10:08 PM