“ It was so sad to see that Jimmy had passed over before I could come to visit. He was a favorite of my mother, Mickie Rader, and my dad Millard, who was his mother's brother. A lovely cousin when I was growing up. I remember him spending the night at our house and laughing at breakfast. He brought Loretta to our home when he had found the love of his life and introduced her to us. He drove to South Carolina for my mother's funeral when he could ill afford it but he had often visited her and brought gifts of glassware, some of which I have in my own home now. All of my memories of Jim are good, so I hope he was surrounded by his large family and is now peaceful, secure and united with those who love him and went ahead.
