“ Rosalee, Karen was eternally grateful to you and Jim, considering you as part of her family. I did not know him as well as I was a few years ahead in school. Karen thought the world of your family and I know she would have been deeply saddened by his loss. Jm W.

“ Although I had not seen Mitch for years, I always considered him one of the best of the Class of 62. He worked at the Men's Shop in St. Albans with my mother-in-law (JoAnne White), always had a smile on his face and a kind word for all he came in contact with. My thoughts and prayers are with the Mitchell family during this difficult times. Gene Strother Class of 62.

“ Mitch was my 1st Boss, He was the manager of The Men`s Shop on Main St. and I worked for him when I was 14 and 15. When I moved back to SA I was driving my chair by his house, and he saw me and yelled. he invited me up and we had a beer together. He was my 1st visitor to my house on Washington Ave.. RIP my old friend,

“ I met Jim at St. Albans Jr. High School. We were in the same homeroom and became best friends. The next year, I moved back to Charleston with my parents. I didn't catch back up until young adult years. If I were in Sears he would make it a point to speak. If you were his friend, you were always his friend. He was a rare person, in that his personality never changed. I'm thankful he was in my life. Much sympathy to his wife and family. God Speed. ~ Sherry Reed Hill

“ Mitch was my baseball coach when I played little league. He was a good role model for a bunch of young boys. As a man I would run into Mitch, he always remembered my name. I found that amazing considering how many boys he coached. Just a few weeks ago, I talked to his daughter. Told her to tell him I said Hello.

“ I remember Mitch especially when he was a classmate of mine with the SAHS class of 62 and as a member of the football team. He worked so hard to fill his role of the line at SAHS. Everybody liked him and appreciated his hard work to be a part of our team. He always had a big smile even though he was really tired. Everybody liked Mitch. We will miss you. “ I loved Mitch like a father. I have great memories of him sitting on our deck with my dad telling stories of their childhood together. I hung onto every word! When my Dad would get home from work I would always ask him "Is Mitch coming over today?" If the answer was yes I knew I was going to have an amazing evening! He was a wonderful man and a joy to be around.
