“ I honestly can't find the words to express my sadness. Karen was a bright spot in the world, one of the most genuinely kind and caring people I have ever known. She was like a second mother to me after my own parents moved away, always checking on me when she came to the pharmacy, where I worked with Donald. My thoughts will be with Don, Donald, Kristina, Amber, and the grandchildren as they say goodbye today, and make their way forward without her.

“ It made me so sad to see this, this morning. I met Karen at New Hope Baptist church many years ago and fell in love with her sense of humor and we became friends. She was a light to my world in a dark time. Praying for her family.
