“ I have so many memories of Kim. Most of them I look back on and laugh, but some of them are the reason I remember her with love. She was the friend who remembered my kids birthdays and when I lost custody of my kids, she was the friend who had them come over to her house so I could see them for a couple hours. Everything Kim did for the right reasons she put her heart into 100% and I know these last few years have been hard for her and everyone who loved her, but I know from my own conversations with Kim that deep down she still loved us all with that 100%. Goodbye, my dear friend.
