“ Jo opened her house to me when Karen and I became best friends. I spent endless weekends and some holidays with them. She taught me how to cook the best spaghetti. Made us laugh at her etiquette advice for young ladies. I'll never forget the ride we made her take with us through Kanawha city. Her laughter was contagious. I loved her stories of her growing up.

Her endless love of saving recipes out of the magazines. She loved her family and her husband dearly. Life will never be the same with you not in it

Love you

Your other daughter Susan ❤️
