“ The Dutch Settlers Society of Albany just learned about Muriel's passing and we are so sad to lose her. She worked very hard to prove descent from several early settlers in the Albany area. Best wishes and heartfelt hugs to her family.

“ I loved Mrs. Frincke from the first day I met her at Andrew Heights Elementary School in Tornado, WV. I think it was 1962. First she was Mr. Patrick’s secretary. She took me by the hand and led me all over the school and campus while telling me about the school and what I was about to learn. Then she was my most exciting and loving teacher ever. 4th grade. She challenged us in many ways but we just thought we were having fun listening to her. But that’s how she taught us and kept our attention. She taught us how to think and how to learn on our own. Two very important skills for life. One day she took us to the stage and lined us up in choir format and taught us Christmas songs. I especially remember Silver Bells. I still think of her each time I hear that song! Then it was our privilege to have her teach us again in 6th grade. I remember her beautiful comments and especially her beautiful calligraphy hand writing notes to our families on our report card. And her house was our favorite house to visit on Halloween night. Her and her husband would go beyond our imagination for us. We never knew what they’d do for us but it was always fun! She traveled so many other places. She’d bring back all kinds of stories to tell us about. I did get to visit here so many years ago while she still lived in Tornado, WV. I had moved south to Brunswick, GA. She STLL had some of my art work saved. What an amazing woman she was her entire life. I’m so sorry I never got the opportunity to sneak down to FL to visit. I truly wanted to. It would have been wonderful. I miss our little chats on FB. She must be very happy right now! “I Can Only Imagine “. Love you Mrs. Frincke! You certainly made a lifelong impact on my life!

“ As a student of hers at Andrew’s Heights elementary she was viewed as a strict disciplinarian at least from our young minds. We feared the red paddle that was laid on her desk for us all to see. Looking back that discipline helped shape many successful people and I’m thankful I was able to be one. I connected with her several years ago on Facebook and was amazed at what she remembered. I am saddened but yet glad that she isn’t suffering and has joined her husband and son. Prayers to her remaining family, I know u will miss her terribly.
